

The Sag Harbor Fest

SEPTEMBER 6-8

2013

FRI

6 pm HarborFest Fiesta

Whaling Museum
The Sag Harbor Whaling and Historical Museum, a building that is in fact at the heart of Sag Harbor history, both emotionally and physically, will host a party to mark the beginning of HarborFest. Bring your beach chairs, blankets and dancing shoes for a night of fun for all ages as the Sag Harbor Whaling Museum kicks off the weekend with a Fiesta! The event includes Montaco Truck tacos, chips & salsa, guacamole, Montauk Brewing Company beer, Channing Daughters wine, Dreamy Ice Cream and Iced Coffee from Sylvester & Co., music by DJ Mister Lama and a kids adventure area.
All proceeds from the Fiesta go to the Capital Campaign Fund to restore the home of the museum, the Benjamin Hunting House.
Event Co-Chairs are Gina & Eric Hadley, Allison & Luke Babcock and Julie & Steve Hatfield.
In advance: $50 adults, $12.50 kids 16 and under; At the door: $75 adults, $20 kids 16 and under. 725-0770.

6 pm Solar Boat "Novella"

Long Wharf
The solar powered boat "Novella" will be docked at the Sag Harbor Harborfest for persons attending to view. The boat will arrive under solar power in Friday, September 6th and will be there all day Saturday and Sunday, departing early Monday for a solar powered return to Riverhead.
The boat has recently completed a circumnavigation of Long Island and plans many more voyages in the future. Its owners meet people both at dockside in Riverhead, its home port, and on the water to promote solar energy and solar boating.

The boat is 29-feet overall with an 11-ft. beam and is driven by two 4KW electric motors, used alternatively on odd and even days. At 750 watts it moves at 4.0 knots, at 3,000 watts it moves at 6.2 knots.

Film: For Me and My Gal

Bay Street Theatre
Starring Gene Kelly. Tickets are $7 at the door.

SAT

9 am Farmers Market

Bay Street
The South Fork has long built a reputation as one of the greatest providers of fresh produce and shellfish in the state, with farms stretching from the hilly moraine to the shores of the Atlantic. In recent years there has been a revived interest in hand-crafted, or slow, foods and this year the Sag Harbor Farmer's Market brings you a collection of farmers and purveyors with some very special items from the farm fields and local bays. Among the items for sale will be fresh organic vegetables, locally made cheeses, oysters, clams, mushrooms and fresh bread and pastries. To 4 pm.

9 am Arts & Crafts Fair

Marine Park
The East End enjoys a reputation for having some of the most talented artisans and craftspeople on Long Island. This weekend, many of them will set up their booths and tables on Long Wharf for visitors to examine and purchase. Among the items will be fine art paintings, water colors and photographs, pottery, needlework and jewelry. To 4 pm.

10 am Sidewalk Sale

Main Street
The village's shops and restaurants are invited to bring out their wares to the great outdoors. Clothing, books, collectibles, and even a burger or a slice of pizza to enjoy as you stroll along Main Street shopping in the open air. To 4 pm.

10 am Taste of Sag Harbor

Long Wharf
Throughout the day there will be a variety of food options, including a taste of the best from local restaurants, caterers and wineries, hot dogs and sodas from the scouts and snacks to satisfy your hunger as you meander along Long Wharf and watch the annual whaleboat races, sailing races and vessels in the harbor. Restaurants and food purveyors expected to participate include Page at 63 Main, The Golden Pear, Bay Burger, Muse in the Harbor, North Fork Food Works, Sweet 'Tauk Lemonade, Multi Aquaculture Systems, G&L Gyro, Dough Gluten-Free Baking, Gula Gula, Silver Spoon and Hormans Pickles, among others. To 4 pm.

10 am Coast Guard Boat

Long Wharf
Conditions permitting, the U.S. Coast Guard station in Montauk will bring a deep sea rescue boat to Long Wharf this weekend. For those who are understandably fascinated with how our Coast Guard conducts emergency rescues, service men and women will be available for a tour of the craft and to answer your questions.

10 am Face Painting and Karaoke
Long Wharf
Oh, c'mon, we know you've always wanted to walk up and down Main Street looking like a cat or a monkey. Well, at least your kids do. This year HarborFest brings a face painter down to Long Wharf to help bring out the inner animal. It's a benefit for the Pierson Thespians, the local high school theatrical group. To 4 pm.

10 am Classic Boat Display
Long Wharf
For enthusiasts of fine vessels, several classic boats – from skiffs to sailboats – will be on display along Long Wharf courtesy of the East End Classic Boat Society. The society offers a special demonstration in rope splicing this year, sure to be useful for all mariners. The Society has also built a new community boathouse in Amagansett, and membership applications will be available this weekend. To 4 pm.

10 am Solar Boat "Novella"
Long Wharf
The solar powered boat "Novella" will be docked at the Sag Harbor Harborfest for persons attending to view. To 4 pm

10 am On the Spot Reference
Long Wharf
Staff from the John Jermain Memorial Library will give you tips and help you reference a variety of subjects including Sag Harbor history and homes, and information on free e-books and audio books. To 4 pm

10 am Children's Amusements
Long Wharf
Games and activities for the kids including a rock climbing wall and bouncy house. To 4 pm.

10 am Coast Guard Inspections/Knot Tying
Long Wharf
The Coast Guard Auxiliary will be offering free boat inspections over the weekend at the floating dock adjacent to Long Wharf. You can have a trained Auxiliarist discuss the required and recommended boating equipment for your vessel – lights, placards, numbering, visual distress signals, fire extinguishers, etc. Dock slips can accommodate vessels up to 32-feet.

Members of the Auxiliary will also be available to demonstrate tying the various knots mariners should know. To 3 pm.

10:30 am Walking Tour:
Maritime Sag Harbor
Meet at Windmill
This tour explores Sag Harbor's waterfront and the storied people and businesses that helped the community emerge as a dominant whaling port of the 19th century. From its earliest days as a port for trade, helping the farmers of the South Fork move their produce up and down the coast, when clipper ships plied the Atlantic, to its days when whaling voyages started out past Cedar Point for years at a time and the shoreline here was bustling with coopers and stores and sailmakers, to the recent commercial and industrial past when Mobil tankers would bring oil to the tank farm on Bay Street, to today, when million-dollar yachts sidle up to Long Wharf, the waterfront has defined the village.

10:30 am Old Jail House Museum
Division Street Next to Police Station
A project of the Sag Harbor Historical Society, the Old Jail House was in use from the late 19th Century to the 1970s. To 4 pm.

11 am Children's Story Time
John Jermain Memorial Library Table on Long Wharf
Stories and songs of the sea.

11 am American Beauty Tour
Long Wharf
Sometimes you have to get off dry land to appreciate the place you came from. Capt. Don Heckman takes visitors aboard his tour ship, "American Beauty" for a cruise through local waters. Along the way Capt. Heckman will speak about the natural and historical evolution of Sag Harbor and its surrounding communities, from the time in the 1600s when merchants shipped their goods from Northwest landing to the time in the 1700s when Sag Harbor became a bustling port, to today when the harbor has evolved into one of the most popular destinations along the eastern seaboard.

11 am Corn Shucking Contest
Long Wharf
The kids are invited down to Long Wharf to see who can peel an ear of corn the fastest. Register at the Windmill. Last year the title was shared by brothers Brandon and Matthew Braccia.

11 am Concert: John Corr
Long Wharf
A master of traditional seafaring music who welcomes a good old sing-along. To 2 pm.

11:30 am Old Burying Ground Tour
Old Burying Ground
Hosted by the Sag Harbor Historical Society, this tour through the village's oldest cemetery takes visitors past the graves and tells the stories of some of Sag Harbor's earliest residents, including whaling captains and Revolutionary War heroes.

12 noon Annual Whalers Cup Whaleboat Races – Elimination Round 1

Windmill Beach

The guys on those whaling ships had to do something for fun. We bet they raced their whaleboats when things were slow and right whales were hard to come by. Our version pits teams of four against each other, including two rowers, a tiller-man and a harpoonist.

In men's and women's divisions, the teams compete over two days, on a triangular course of about two hundred yards. It's on the last frantic leg along the Long Wharf where the cheering from hundreds of spectators who traditionally line up on the wharf reaches a fever pitch, as fans of all teams try to help carry their boat home.

Elimination heats run on Saturday and finals run on Sunday. Expected to be back to defend their titles, and the right to have their names emblazoned on the coveted Whalers Cup – presented courtesy of the Sag Harbor Express – will be Team Whalers in the Men's Division and Joseph Labrozzi, Jr. in the Women's Division.

12 noon Open House

Breakwater Yacht Club

An open house and kid's bake sale to benefit junior sailing programs at Breakwater Yacht Club community sailing center.

12 noon Indigenous American Music

Long Wharf

Musician Walter Purizaca offers a selection of music from a variety Native American-inspired sources.

1 pm Concert: Community Band

Long Wharf

Many small villages in the last century enjoyed having community bands to play at special events. Keeping with that tradition, Sag Harbor once had a coronet band, and since 1957 has had The Community Band. Playing popular and unusual marches and other band music.

1 pm American Beauty Tour

Long Wharf

1 pm Keith Leaf Entertainment

Main Street and Long Wharf

Stilts, juggling and so much more 'til 3 p.m. followed by dynamic fire juggling and comedy show on Long Wharf.

2 pm Firefighters Cup Whaleboat Races

Windmill Beach

The fifth annual HarborFest Firefighter Cup races features teams from local fire departments. Expected to be back to defend their title this year will be a team from The Sag Harbor Dive Team.

2 pm Children's Story Time

John Jermain Memorial Library Table on Long Wharf

Stories and songs of the sea.

3 pm Annual Whalers Cup Whaleboat Races - Elimination Round 2

Windmill Beach

3 pm American Beauty Tour

Long Wharf

4 pm J70 Match Racing Demonstration

Off Long Wharf

5 pm Historic Walking Tour of Eastville

Eastville Community Heritage House

The Eastville Community Historical Society will welcome guests along on a walking tour through the Eastville area including St. David's church, at one time a stop on the fabled Underground Railroad, and its 19th century graveyard, the recently restored Eastville Community Heritage House (a Sears Roebuck kit house from the 1920s), and several historic homes in the area. A tasting of African American and Native American foods is also offered. $.

6 pm Barbecue: Breakwater Yacht Club Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Celebrate the 25th anniversary of Sag Harbor's community sailing center at its clubhouse overlooking the harbor. Food will be prepared by the chefs from Water Mill's Dish restaurant, and there will be an open bar for wine, beer and soft drinks. Dancing will be to the Blue Collar Band.

The party is open to the public. Tickets are $60 per person in advance through breakwateryc.org, or $70 at the door unless sold out, $50 under 21 years old.

SUN

8 am Pancake Breakfast

Main Firehouse

Everyone is invited back to the Main Firehouse on Sunday morning for a breakfast of flapjacks. A good way to start off a busy day is with a filling breakfast.

Arts & Crafts Fair

Marine Park

9 am

The East End enjoys a reputation for having some of the most talented artisans and craftspeople on Long Island. This weekend, many of them will set up their booths and tables on Long Wharf for visitors to examine and purchase. Among the items will be fine art paintings, water colors and photographs, pottery, needlework and jewelry. To 4 pm.

9 am Pilates on the Beach

Windmill Beach

Want a little stretch and tone to get you in shape for the busy day ahead (think walking tours, whaleboat races, clam shucking)? Join us on the beach near the windmill on Sunday morning to catch the early morning sun and do a little Pilates.

10 am Sidewalk Sale

Main Street

The village's shops and restaurants are invited to bring out their wares to the great outdoors. Clothing, books, collectibles, and even a burger or a slice of pizza to enjoy as you stroll along Main Street shopping in the open air. To 4 pm.

10 am Taste of Sag Harbor

Long Wharf

Throughout the day there will be a variety of food options, including a taste of the best from local restaurants, caterers and wineries, hot dogs and sodas from the scouts and snacks to satisfy your hunger as you meander along Long Wharf and watch the annual whaleboat races, sailing races and vessels in the harbor. Restaurants and food purveyors expected to participate include Page at 63 Main, The Golden Pear, Bay Burger, Muse in the Harbor, North Fork Food Works, Sweet 'Tauk Lemonade, Multi Aquaculture Systems, G&L Gyro, Dough Gluten-Free Baking, Gula Gula, Silver Spoon and Hormans Pickles, among others. To 4 pm.

10 am Classic Boat Display

Long Wharf

For enthusiasts of fine vessels, several classic boats – from skiffs to sailboats – will be on display along Long Wharf courtesy of the East End Classic Boat Society. The society offers a special demonstration in rope splicing this year, sure to be useful for all mariners. The Society has also built a new community boathouse in Amagansett, and membership applications will be available this weekend. To 4 pm.

10 am Children's Amusements

Long Wharf

Games and activities for the kids including a rock wall and bouncy house. To 4 pm.

10 am Solar Boat "Novella"

Long Wharf

The solar powered boat "Novella" will be docked at the Sag Harbor Harborfest for persons attending to view. To 4 pm

10:30 am Walking Tour: Women's Lives

This tour will visit houses (mostly) of women who have been born or lived in Sag Harbor. Some famous, some not so, but all interesting. Among them are Sag Harbor's great benefactress Mrs. Russell Sage, Lady Caroline Blackwood, Anna Elizabeth Westfall, who ran a finishing school for girls from her home on Howard St.; Mary Breck Sleight, the author of Flag on the Mill-Ship in the Bay; Martha Smith Brown, a whaling captain's wife who sailed with her husband and wrote an extensive diary and author Betty Friedan.

11:30 am Tug-O-War

Before whaleboat racing action starts up again on Sunday, we invite all the kids in the crowd down onto the beach for a good old fashioned contest. We'll divide the kids up (boys vs. girls is pretty popular, or choose up teams) and get them involved in a challenging tug-o-war. Last year the winning team included Kristin Pettigrew, Madie Martin, Joyce Areia, Amaro Padilla, and Georgia DeNardo.

12 noon Whaleboat Races Semifinals

Windmill Beach

Come down, cheer on your favorite team and see who will make it into the finals.

12 noon Concert: Jim Turner

Long Wharf

Traditional and classic blues and folk music. To 2 pm.

12 noon Clam Chowder Contest

Who makes the best clam chowder in Sag Harbor? That's what this contest seeks to answer and you get to help decide. All the local restaurants have been invited to participate so buy a mug for the opportunity to taste all the different chowders. After you've finished, cast your vote for your favorite. The winner gets bragging rights and a neat pewter mug. Both New England and Manhattan varieties are on the block; thick and creamy versus lush and tangy. Last year the Dock House retained the championship for Manhattan-style while B.Smith's took top honors in New England-style. Both are expected back again to defend their titles. Also expected to compete are Bell and Anchor, Cromer's Market, The Dockside, Golden Pear, Il Capuccino, LT Burger, MJ Dowling, Page at 63 Main and The Paradise. The event is a benefit for the Sag Harbor Food Pantry and the Sag Harbor Booster Club. $

12 noon Indigenous American Music

Long Wharf

Musician Walter Purizaca offers a selection of music from a variety Native American-inspired sources.

1 pm Waldo the Clown

Long Wharf
Bring the kids down for some clowning around. To 3 pm.

1:30 pm Oakland Cemetery Tour

Oakland Cemetery
After Sag Harbor's Old Burying Ground was filled to capacity, the community opened Oakland Cemetery in the early 19th century. While it is still very much in use today, it holds some old and interesting surprises. There are buried there Captain David Hand – the model for James Fenimore Cooper's Natty Bumppo – and his five (yes, five) wives; there is the stunning Broken Mast Monument, which honors many of the young local captains who died in the pursuit of whales; and the cemetery is also the final resting place of the famed dancer George Balanchine, who likened the cemetery to those in the French countryside.

2:30 pm JY-15 Women At the Helm Regatta

Breakwater Yacht Club
The regatta is open to sailors of all genders, but the helmsperson must be female. Women of all ages and experience levels are encouraged to participate. The mission of the regatta is to empower young, old and middle-aged women of all sizes and experience levels, who might not otherwise feel compelled to brave the high seas, and to foster communication skills between the sexes. The entry fee will be $10 per boat, and Breakwater YC will provide boats for an additional $25. Breakwater Yacht Club membership is not required, though it is strongly encouraged. The JY15 is a two person dinghy that is

The lobster roll eating contest, 2011

michael heller photo

widely used for junior sailing programs as well as for racing. Racing will happen in waters off Havens Beach. There will be an awards ceremony and post race refreshments at Breakwater Yacht Club after the racing (approximately 5:30 p.m.).

For more information contact Sara Nightingale at sara@saranightingale.com or 631-793-2256. $10.

whaleboat races has hit the water, the festival comes to a fevered conclusion with what has grown to be one of its most popular events: the contest to determine Shucker of the Year, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Last year almost twenty shuckers took bivalve in hand. John Tocco took top honors and is expected back to compete this year. Register at the Food Pantry Table.

3 pm Whaleboat Races Championship

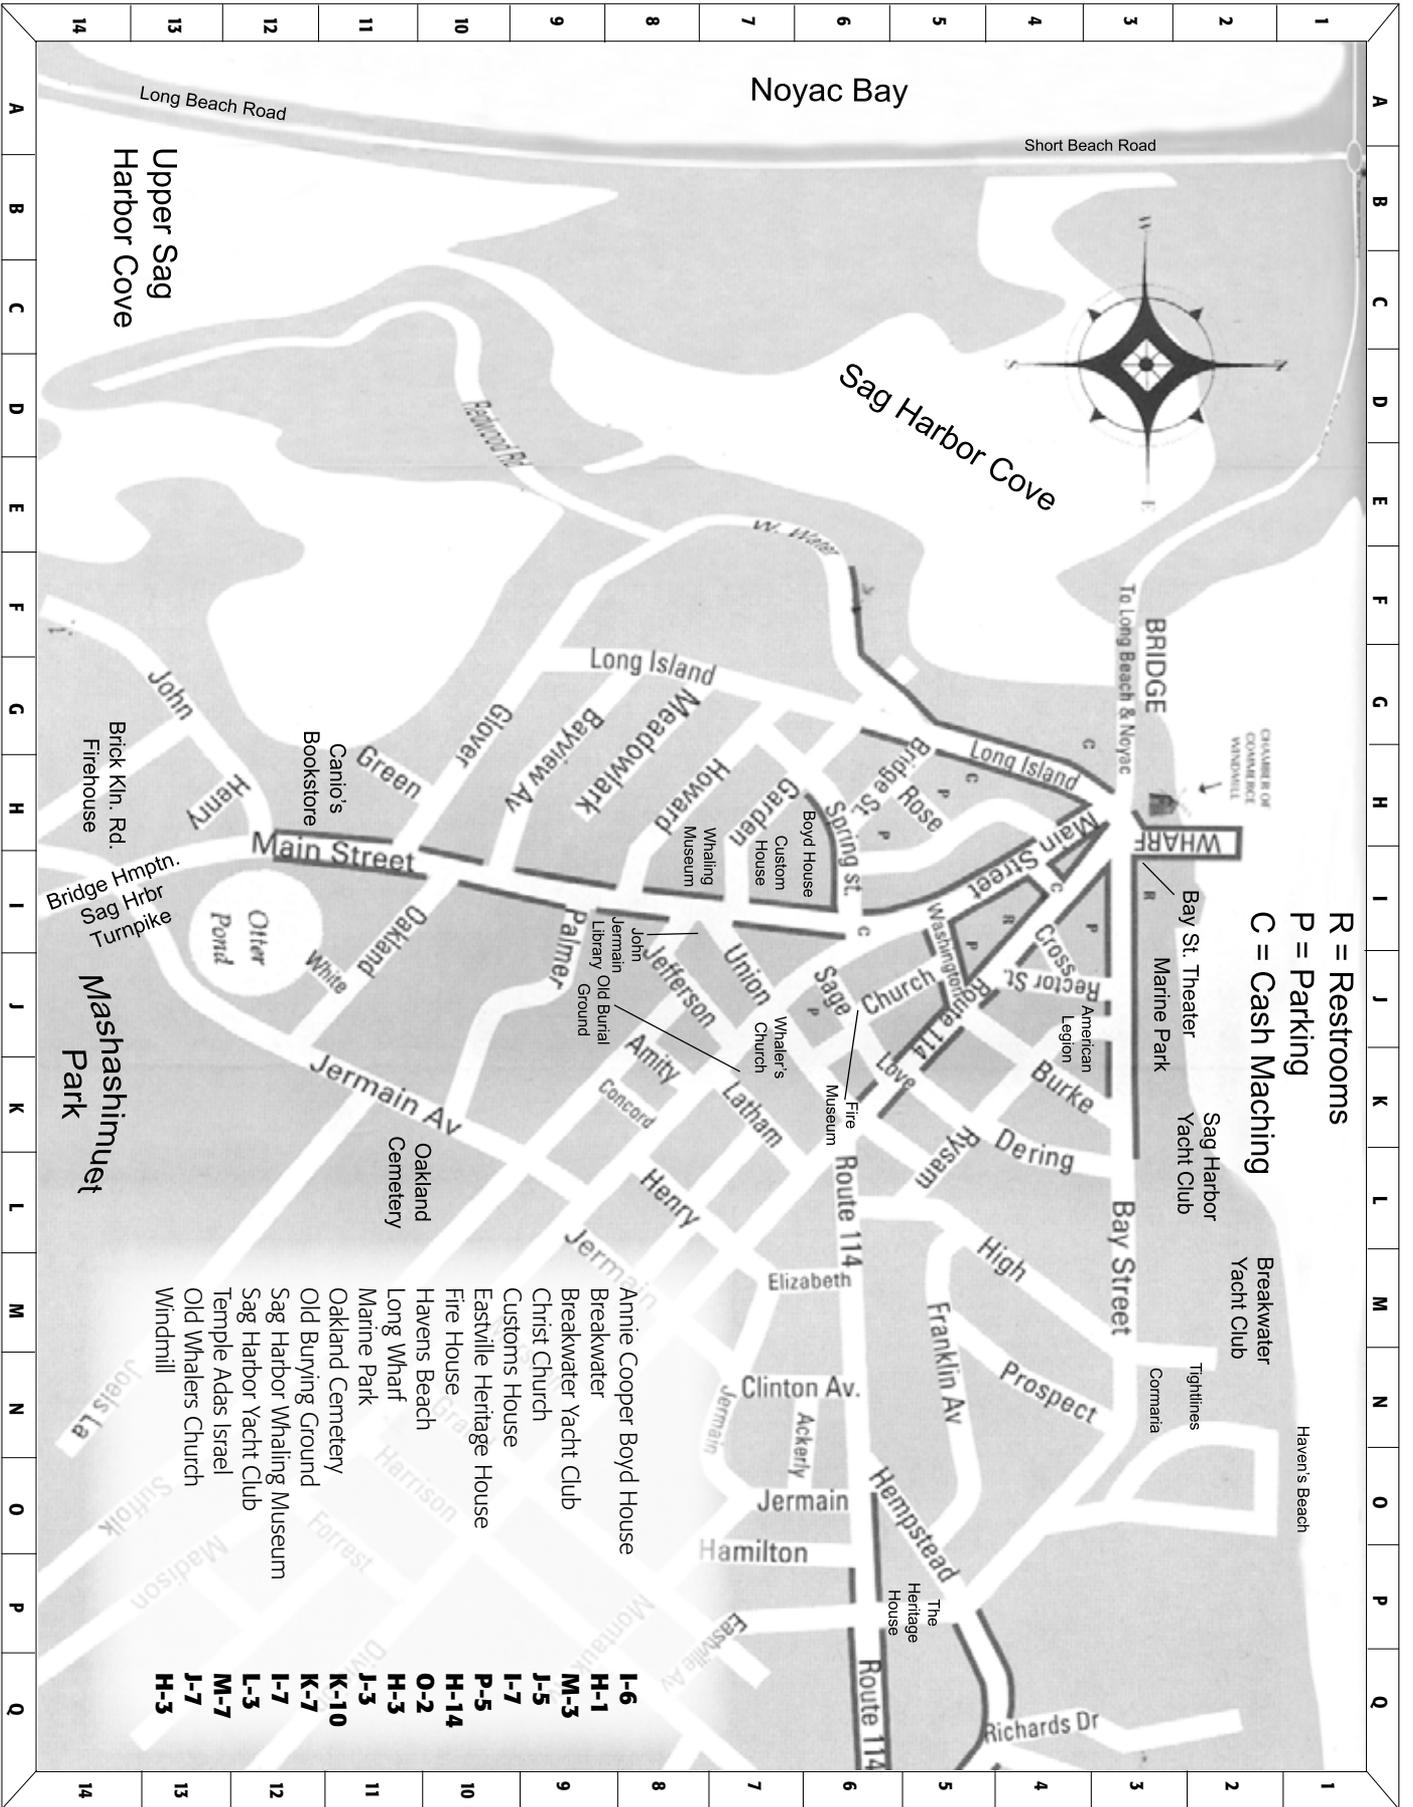

Windmill Beach
See who gets to take home the Whalers Cup.

4 pm Lobster Roll Eating Contest

Long Wharf
Hosted by Bay Burger, this contest honors the participant who can eat the most lobster rolls in a given time. Last year's winner, Emory Fiveash, consumed four-and-one half lobster rolls in five minutes.

3:30 pm Clam Shucking Contest

Long Wharf
After the last oar from the

- I-6
- H-1
- M-3
- J-5
- I-7
- P-5
- H-14
- O-2
- H-3
- J-3
- K-10
- K-7
- I-7
- L-3
- M-7
- J-7
- H-3

michael heller photos